*"Within this awful volume lies
The mystery of mysteries:
Happiest they of the human race,
To whom their God has given grace
To read, to fear, to hope, to pray,
To lift the latch, to force the way;
But better had they ne'er been born,
Who read to doubt, or read to scorn."*

Men of Meditation

To the dim restfulness and still serenity of Oreon E. Scott chapel come the meditative . . . those seeking respite from daily cares, those yearning for a moment of peace and solitude, find refuge here . . .

MEDBURY HALL

Quiet dedication surrounds Medbury Hall, College of Divinity
... here more than knowledge is sought ... here the classroom is the church; the homework, a dedicated life; the textbook, the Bible; the teacher, God ...

Eventually, the Freshman adjusts; he joins the crowd; he becomes collegiate.

What am I doing here? How will I ever learn my way around? My roommate and I just don't have anything in common — good grief, why did I ever come to Drake University?

Confusion?

Orientation . . .
New Faces,
New Places

The new student's guide, Admissions Counselor Robert Martin, blazes the collegiate trail.

These are some of the desperate queries frantic freshmen yearly make as they watch the familiar family car drive off, leaving them, bag and baggage, on the dorm lawn — the glass and brick building that's going to house them for a long nine months. For the first few days, nothing seems to go right — closet doors fall out at the slightest touch, beds are so "low to the ground" that muscles ache from the semi-squat position employed to sit on them, and the umpteen flights of stairs are evidence of Drake's plans for developing track stars.

However, these problems fade when Sunday, September 13 comes and the New Student Orientation Program begins. The freshman, who by this time almost believes he's colored green, goes to his first meeting — leaving early so he'll have time to find his group leader, who sometimes turns out to be that cute guy or girl who caught his eye last night at Vic's. For the next week, a freshman's life is health tests, welcomes, convocations, auditions, meetings and more meetings. After the harrowing ordeal of registration, freshmen face another trial; feeling doomed to being line-standers, they join another line of shouting, pushing, mangling book seekers at the University Bookstore.

After this major purchase, as they stare amazed into vacant pocketbooks, the importance of budgeting dawns. With this new lesson in mind, the new arrival returns to the dorm where many more are learned. Adjusting to community living, especially if he hates peculiarities like chain-smoking, going to bed before midnight, or ending each sentence with "cha cha cha," takes a little concentration.

Many a frosh becomes a frustrated biped from the chaos of the buzzer system, from the anonymity of being a number, from forgetting to set the alarm clock or to pick up before the maids come in to clean, from endless waiting in the dinner line while the line grows long in front of you, from the terror of the "D" men, and the humiliation of the beanies.

Ugh! Another schedule change . . .

Onward the 'A's' and 'Z's' to the Assembly Line of Registration

Through the fieldhouse front door file the "A's" and "B's," owners of such prized names as Aaron, Adams, and Brown. Through the fieldhouse side door sneak the "Y's" and "Z's," unfortunates named Yancy, York, and Zimms. From all openings, they pour into registration — each seeking that elusive treasure, the perfect class schedule.

Armed with much-thumbed schedule books, upperclassmen's advice on professors, well-sharpened pencils, and plenty of patience, students climb aboard the assembly line of registration. The seemingly endless balcony wait is filled with voices — "what do ya' mean, I need 16 hours of science?" "don't take that professor — he flunked me," "business classes are just loaded with guys," "man, I've got to get all morning classes — I can't hack another Friday afternoon lab."

Meanwhile, in the corner of the fieldhouse . . .

Slowly they siphon down onto the fieldhouse floor where they're loaded with papers, cards, folders, and envelopes and sent along the roped-off route. After a quick conference with advisors, a hasty filling-out of programs, they dash over to pull cards. With agonizing slowness, the line shortens; then the P.A. cracks and a voice announces, "These classes are now closed . . ." Groans and curses echo as "closed-outs" return to advisors and revamp schedules — a little less desirable than at first.

Say, what did you say our phone number was?

There must be a shortcut to this system somewhere.

After class cards are pulled, the finger-breaking, patience-trying task of filling out record cards remains. Even egotists get tired of their names after writing it on a dozen papers. Now they reboard the assembly line where they're hustled from station to station — each stop emptying card-filled hands and money-filled wallets.

Finally, the last card is delivered, the last payment made. The finished product, the class schedule, barely resembles its predecessor — that perfect schedule; but what does that matter? They've passed the preliminary bout of registration and are now ready for the first round of classes.

A Study in

Spacious accommodations for study or relaxation.

Sparkling up stark white and gray walls, accumulating trunks of souvenirs, altering room arrangements — to make a dorm room your own . . . borrowers stream in and out, adorned in clothes too familiar for comfort . . . blaring hi-fi's and hall-length conversations interrupt moments of study . . .

Smoke-filled social rooms with greasy remains of popcorn, collections of empty pop containers, and cups of frigid coffee . . . social rooms, headquarters for cram sessions . . .

Painstaking toothpaste applications to doorknobs, silent placements of brimming buckets against closed doors . . . ah, yes, the dorm . . .

Contrasts

Off-campus apartments and rooms, another world of lodging . . . where the overflow seeks a roof, where the isolates and evaders seek solitude . . . off-campus living, where breeds an attitude of independence not always appreciated by university officials . . .

What'll you have?

'Most Valuable'

Rupert Hartshorn, junior student from El Dorado, Kansas, was named by his teammates as the most valuable player of 1959.

Hartshorn, a tiger on offense, came to Drake from El Dorado Junior College. He lettered as a tackle there last year.

Mustard's fine
but the spoon's
a little large!

"Cokes being delivered by the gallons!" "Hot dogs are piled sky high!" "I've heard there's no class Monday!" How the rumor flew! After winning the Bradley game, high hopes and hunches were everywhere.

An 11 o'clock meeting of S.F.C. confirmed it for sure. The few unbelievers who ventured to class were accompanied by those adorned for the day. Bermudas, sweatshirts, old clothes, and jeans were hidden under concealing trench coats in poorly-attended labs.

But sack-time was foremost in many more minds. Skip Day dawn was seen by few. The Ad Building saw even fewer. Demands were made with feeble support. The ever-loyal band played on. The day was officially proclaimed.

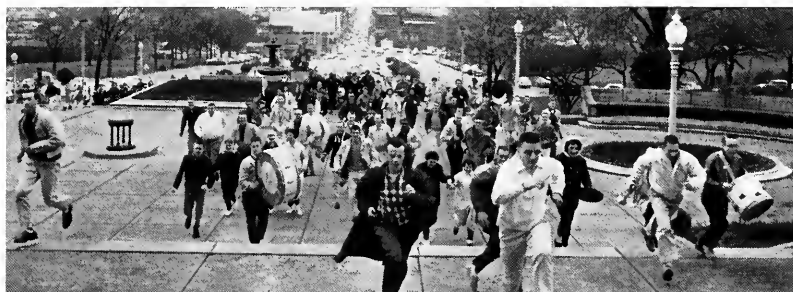

One, two, three, the band — then blocks of cars streamed to the Capitol. Boistrous singing, gaudy chanting, and a calm official welcome followed the winding car caravan.

The gallons of coke and the piles of hot dogs were handed out by, mustard-dipped shirt sleeves belonging to professors. The Union swarmed with skippers, buzzing over afternoon plans about the movie in the Ad auditorium, the party at the fraternity house, or the picnic on the edge of town.

The Year . . .

Drake's football team found the 1959 season a dismal one, both recordwise and weatherwise. Rain and a poorly surfaced field turned the Stadium into a sea of mud for all five home games.

Advanced publicity tabbed the Bulldogs as a "new-look" team as they prepared for the season's opener at their training headquarters at Camp Dodge. New Head Coach Tommy O'Connell, former star quarterback for the Cleveland Browns and at the University of Illinois, was installing a pro-type offense, new to the followers of Drake football.

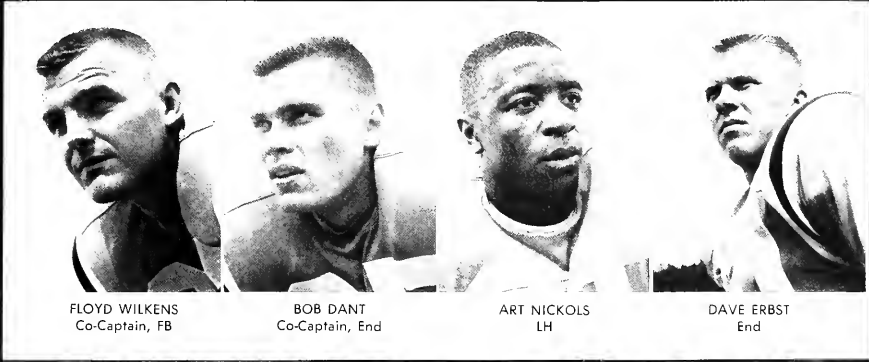

Also new were assistant coaches Ellis Rainsberger, former Kansas State lineman, and Dick Olson, former Navy center and Captain of the 1953 Middie team. Many new faces appeared in the Drake line-up due to a fine group of sophomores up from last year's freshman team and the fact that competition ran high for positions. During the season, different players started at one time or another and some players played two or three different positions.

Another "new-look" item was the appearance of a new schedule, with many changes over the usual procedure and opponents. Traditional rival Iowa State was moved to the first game on the schedule and pre-game optimists looked for a close contest due to Drake's new offense. Rain dampened the contest and stalled Drake's new offense, while the Cyclones ground out a 41-0 triumph. Drake's new uniforms were baptized with mud.

Rain continued to hamper the Bulldogs as Central Michigan, a new team on the schedule, turned loose a flotilla of fleet backs and floated to a 41-21 victory. Iowa State Teachers College was the next visitor to Drake's mud bowl as they slipped and slid to a 14-6 decision, adding to the rain-soaked, mud-splattered misery of the Bulldogs.

Saint Ambrose returned to the Drake schedule for the first time since 1943 and provided the heart-break of the year as they scored a touchdown and a two point conversion in the last 13 seconds to nip Drake's victory hopes, 23-22. Travel proved an inspiration as the Drake eleven took to the road for their first visitors' appearance of the year and also their first victory as they made themselves unwelcome before a Bradley crowd.

Frigid Festivities . . .

Cool, Man! An Arctic Homecoming

Uninvited guests — snow, ice, and freezing temperatures — accompanied the parents, alums, and friends who braved the weather to attend Drake's 1959 Homecoming-Parents Weekend, November 6-7.

Bundled and booted decorators hammered, nailed, painted, and papier-machéd desperately as frost-bitten fingers raced against time to complete decorations for judging. Although a blanket of snow made many displays resemble white wastes, judges could see enough to select the decoration winners, which were:

Sorority

First — Alpha Xi Delta

Second — Alpha Phi

Fraternity

First — Tau Kappa Epsilon

Second — Alpha Tau Omega

Independent

First — Kappa Psi

Second — Women's Inter-Dormitory Council

Chilly weather didn't hamper Homecoming Queen campaigns, either, as loyal backers smothered the campus in posters, signs, and fliers, as candidates doffed coats for the campus parade, and as voters hustled to the Student Union to cast their ballots . . . and we do mean ballots.

Among the visitors who faced icy highways to attend Drake's Homecoming-Parents Weekend were honored guests Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Sackett, Parents of the Year, from Spencer, Iowa.

Although cold weather canceled the traditional Homecoming pep rally, it couldn't overcome the warmth of the Val-Air, where the pre-game dance, featuring Richard Maltby's band, was held.

. . . and the band played on.

"They said it couldn't be done," but Alpha Xi Delta did it four years in a row!

The football team did heed Kappa Psi's advice and did "wash those bears right out of our hair."

Die-hard football fans peered from under mountains of blankets long enough to breathe a cloudy vapor, down a cup of hot coffee, snatch a quick smoke, and urge the Bulldogs on to a 7-0 victory over the Washington of St. Louis Bears — a fitting climax to Drake's 1959 Homecoming-Parents Weekend.

Tau Kappa Epsilon wanted a "whale of a victory" — but why did it have to be in a sea of mud?

Sandy Longacre, sponsored by the Independent Council, is a junior in liberal arts from Rock Island, Illinois.

Highly jubilant, they traveled the following week to play West Texas State and ran into Lady Luck as bad breaks left the Bulldogs trailing 20-0 at half-time. They bounced back in the last half to completely outclass the West Texans but couldn't overcome the deficit, losing 34-21.

The Drake eleven returned home to encounter Washington of Saint Louis before a combined Homecoming and Parents Weekend crowd. The rain again returned and through 57 minutes of hard-fought football played in a sea of mud, the game remained scoreless. But to the delight of the Bulldog rooters, Drake fought even harder to produce a 7-0 victory to put icing on the homecoming cake.

The remainder of the season found Drake on the road, and travel must have again stimulated the Bulldogs, as they entered the Wichita game 35 point underdogs but ended the first half leading 7-6. The old story of manpower told the tale, though, as the Shockers wore down the hard fighting Drake eleven to win 20-7. North Texas State, third ranked offensive team in the nation, had trouble with the charged-up Drake eleven during the first half but came back strong, scoring 46 points in the second half to win by 60 points, 62-2.

The season ended on a dismal note and the record stood 2-7, but the black and white statistics couldn't possibly tell the whole story. A group of Drake footballers faced a long season of daily practices, rugged opponents, Monday morning quarter-backs, and the discouraging aspect of playing on a losing team. Through all these diversities they gave whole-heartedly the spirit and fight which makes college life what it is.

Administration

President Harmon and the "Drake of the Future."

Henry G. Harmon

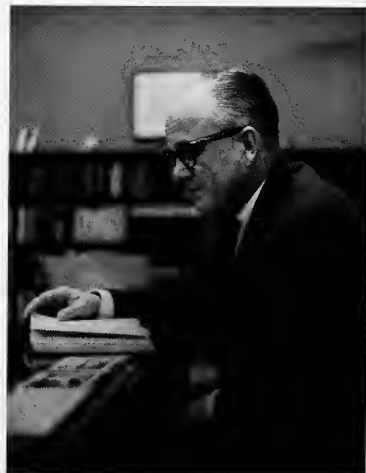

President, Drake University

Henry G. Harmon, Drake University's seventh president, assumed his presidential duties in September, 1941. Dr. Harmon, a 1924 graduate of Cotner College, received his Master of Arts degree from Transylvania in 1925, his Doctorate from Chicago University, and Doctor of Philosophy and college administration degrees from Minnesota University. He was awarded Honorary Doctor degrees from Transylvania, Culver-Stockton College, and Texas Christian College, along with the Outstanding Achievement Award from the University of Minnesota. Prior to his present position, he was President of William Woods College.

During Dr. Harmon's presidency, Drake has seen much progress in its campus facilities. New buildings include Harvey Ingham Hall of Science, Fitch Hall of Pharmacy, Oreon E. Scott Meditation Chapel, plus Stalnaker, Crawford and Carpenter dormitories. There has also been an increase of staff, a broadening of curriculum, and a strengthening of scholastic standards. Dr. Harmon helped to establish Drake's Community College in 1946.

President Harmon is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Christian Board of Publications Director, a member of the Greater Des Moines Committee, and personnel committee chairman of Edmundson Art Foundation.

Vice-President in charge of business and finance, who oversees the physical operation of the campus, is Carl A. Kasten.

Kasten has been at Drake since 1950, and is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. He received his Master of Science and Bachelor of Arts degrees from the University of Chicago.

Included under Kasten's supervision are the accounting department, with Charles Cox, chief accountant; John Strohbeen, head of the buildings and grounds department; the purchasing department with George Mosher, and the internal auditor, Halmut Wilk. Kasten's assistant, Werner Snow, oversees the post office, the switchboard and the maintenance of the dorms . . .

At Drake since 1924, Dr. George Huff has been in his present position as Vice-President, academic administration, since 1955. He is responsible for all phases of the academic organization of the university, including the nine colleges, the libraries, the office of the registrar and director of athletics.

A graduate of Drake in 1928, Dr. Huff joined the biology department faculty in 1933, and in 1935 became professor and chairman of the biology department. During two different years, 1949 and 1954, Dr. Huff was the acting dean of the Liberal Arts College. A Phi Beta Kappa, he received his Master of Science and Doctorate of Philosophy degrees from the State University of Iowa. He is a native of Des Moines.

Justin W. Brown
Director of Admissions Counselors

A familiar figure on campus, who acts as Drake's official host, is Justin W. Brown, director of admissions counselors. Brown, who has been here since 1952, co-ordinates the activities of the four admissions counselors, answers letters of inquiry, and arranges meetings between deans and students interested in attending Drake.

Brown is a graduate of Missouri University and has served as director of admissions at MacMurray and Stephens Colleges. Brown was also a high school principal in Kirksville, Missouri . . .

Grice Axtman joined the Drake administration in June, 1959, as director of public relations and development. He guides the operations of the public relations offices, admissions counseling, the news bureau and the alumni office. Mr. Axtman is a native of California, and was associate director of development at Cal Tech. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Cal Tech, 1941. Since his graduation he has been in sales and sales promotion for the Southern California Gas Co., industrial sales manager, Marman Products Co., and consultant in metallurgy and administering government contracts for Ai Research Manufacturing Co.

Grice Axtman
Director of Public Relations

Newell L. Gates
Registrar

Overseeing all applications for admissions, making sure that everybody is properly registered, sending out grades and making out special reports on enrollment are Newell L. Gates' assignments as Drake's registrar. Serving Drake since 1957, he was the registrar and professor of education at Eastern Illinois State College, Dean and registrar of Ashland Junior College, Ashland, Kentucky. Ohio State University awarded Dr. Gates the Bachelor of Science, Master of Arts and Doctorate of Philosophy degrees . . .

As director of placement offices since 1951, O. E. Niffenegger, a practiced attorney, directs the placement of teachers and the placement of people in business.

Niffenegger received his Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees in education from Drake. In Drake's College of Law, Niffenegger was Juris Doctor. His office serves all Drake students and alumni . . .

Keeping Drake fed is the duty of Catherine E. Harpster, Director of the Foods Service. As Drake's dietician, she supervises the dining hall and the "Kennel," serving over 2,000 meals a day.

Business Manager

Directing Drake's testing and counseling since 1951, Michael S. Barry also serves as secretary to the Committee for Financial Aids for loans and scholarships, and as V.A. administrator.

State Teachers College, Indiana, Pennsylvania, awarded Barry his Bachelor of Science in education; his Master of Arts degree was awarded him by Teachers College, Columbia U. Barry is currently working on his doctorate from Columbia University, having completed all work but his final thesis. A native of Pennsylvania, Barry has taught and been a principal in the elementary and junior high schools in Homer City, Pennsylvania . . .

Having over 5,000 hours of military flying to his credit, Col. Lewis J. Wright, professor of air science, is a rated commander pilot. For eminent service, Wright has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross with one oak leaf cluster, the Bronze Star, and the Air Medal with two oak leaf clusters. His interest as a big game hunter has resulted in two African safaris at which he bagged two elephants and a rhinoceros. He is the possessor of 55 game trophies, including a mounted lion.

Carroll V. Galbreath, Dean of Students

Since August, 1958, Carroll V. Galbreath has been Drake's Dean of Students. He received his Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees from the University of Denver, and his Doctor of Education degree from Stanford University in 1954. He has served as a teacher in the Denver public schools. At the University of Denver, Galbreath served as manager of the vocational guidance center, director of counseling, assistant dean of students, acting dean of students, associate dean of students, and assistant to the chancellor.

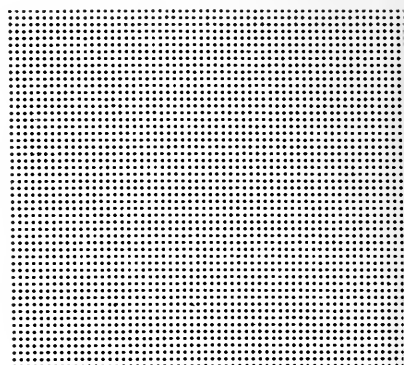

Mrs. Marjorie Cunningham
Dean of Women

Now serving as assistant dean of students (women), Mrs. Marjorie Cunningham began work at Drake as director of student affairs for women. Before coming to Drake in July, 1952, she served as assistant dean of women at the University of Oregon and as associate dean of students at MacMurray College. Previously, she taught home economics in schools in Rippey, Pocahontas, and Ankeny, Iowa. Mrs. Cunningham received her Bachelor of Science degree in home economics from Iowa State University and her Master of Arts degree from Syracuse University.

Fred Kramer
Dean of Men

Assistant dean of students (men), since July, 1957, Fred Kramer was awarded an undergraduate degree in business administration from the University of Wisconsin in 1950. The university awarded him his Master of Science degree in 1952; in 1955, his Doctorate in Personnel and Guidance was awarded. At the University of Wisconsin he served as activities counselor and advisor. During World War II Kramer was a corporal in the Army Air Force.

Into each life some rain must fall. Here for your soaking enjoyment is the 1960 Quax. Now we are the first to admit that the Quax is a bit different than other Quaxs of the past, but not as different as it might have been. (You should see some of the things that didn't get in.)

We started off the year with about 75 eager people on the staff. Somewhere along the line something better came up and, well, you can guess the rest.

Gratitude, as leadership, is a strange thing. It takes many forms, the most common of which is saying thank you. Strange as it seems, Thank you, Staff.

After you have searched the Quax for "funny" pictures and have read each caption under your name, we suggest you put it away for about, oh, 20 years or so, and let it ripen. Who knows, maybe 1960 was a vintage year.

Imagination Runs Free

With Abstract, Literary

Walt Collet, editor

Myron Talcott, business editor

Dennis Forbes, managing editor

To present literary quality as opposed to quantity or quick-selling material is the aim of Abstract, a magazine published quarterly by the Abstract Association, Des Moines, Iowa.

This magazine, containing a liberal sprinkling of fiction, poetry, and art, presents some humorous and purely entertaining articles. However, Abstract strives to present articles of more mature and vital interest, articles concerning controversial subjects. The editors believe that a reader may chuckle contentedly, flip the page, and forget the contents of a purely entertainment-type article; they hold that the reader of a good piece of literature will do more than gain enjoyment — he will reflect upon the deeper meaning of the story and his responses to it.

Above all, Abstract, as its motto states, strives to "present new endeavors in the creative spirit." Such creative endeavors are contributed to Abstract not only by students and faculty of Drake, but by students of other colleges, freelance writers, and local housewives. The magazine is sold in classes, Student Union, and the University Book Store.

The staff includes: WALTER COLLET, editor; DENNIS FORBES, managing editor; MARY MAYO, literary editor; LUTHER McNAUGHTON, art editor; MYRON TALCOTT, business editor; and FRED JOHNSON, accountant. Advisors for the group are: E. L. MAYO, associate professor of English, and HENRY BORZO, assistant professor of history.

It seems to me
That, in my humble
Opinion,
The world needs
What I believe to be
More-or-less
More certainty
And I think
That probably (Possibly)
Without what I suppose
To be a doubt,
I sort of have a little of it.

One campus organization always sure of catching and holding the undivided attention of all spectators — particularly male observers — is the Collegiates.

Organized in 1958 by JEANETTE BOENKNE and DAVID MILLS, the high-stepping, high-kicking dance line consists of 19 light-footed, talented girls with five to 13 years of dance training. Some of the line members also operate their own dancing schools. In addition to talent and experience, the girls, ranging in height from five to six feet, can boast of many other desirable attention-getting features which have turned many heads at Collegiate performances.

JEANETTE BOENKNE continued her leadership of the group during the first semester; for the remainder of the year LYNN BARNES and her assistant, JUDY SCHAIBERGER, directed the line. The girls met three hours a week during the year to practice routines and to take turns leading the group. The Collegiates hope to have the line recognized as an official campus organization, a professional-type group open to coeds interested in dance work.

Although they do make various other appearances, the Collegiates perform primarily for Bulldog Tales. Always eager to perform, the able and attractive Collegiates can be counted on to add those extra "kicks" to any show.

Las Toreadoras

Adding old world flavor and Latin color wherever they appear are the Las Toreadoras, a feature added to Drake's varied activities this year. The colorful drill team was organized last fall under the leadership of PENNY NICHOLS, who also does the original choreography for the group. The team consists of 18 coeds who specialize in Spanish dance steps, complete with whirling red and gold capes.

Accompanied by the Drake University band, the Toreadoras made their debut this spring at the Drake-North Texas basketball game where they presented intricate drill maneuvers and cape passes in the traditional Spanish style. Assisting the Toreadoras with instrumental arrangements are DON R. MARCOUILLER and ROBERT D. WEAST of the Drake music department. The girls have practiced long hours this year to bring to campus a new and different type of entertainment. A second squad of Toreadoras is now being trained; they will comprise a portion of next year's first squad and serve as substitutes for the first squad.

The team's final performance of the year was at the 1960 Drake Relays. They will be performing at next fall's football and basketball games to add a fiesta flavor to the half-time ceremonies.

Choir

"Do-ing, re-ing, and mi-ing," the Drake University Choir sang their way through their fourth successful year. Membership in the 62-voice choir is composed of talented students from Drake's various colleges, as well as from the music department. Under the direction of STANFORD HULSHIZER, professor and head of the department of music education, and ROBERT PEARSON, assistant professor of voice, the choir has had a busy season. They performed at Drake's Christmas Convocation, the Iowa State Music Teachers Convention, and Night of Opera, touring for one week throughout Iowa and Minnesota with this production.

Composed of representatives from the student body and the faculty, the Student-Faculty Council is concerned with student welfare and is responsible for student participation in campus activities.

Membership in the Council is determined by a spring election in which seven seniors and five juniors are elected. Faculty is represented by eight members, including the Dean of Students.

Through executive action of SFC and its seven sub-committees, direct control of all social events and recognition of problems of student concern is achieved. Its cooperative organization and effort promotes better understanding and a closer relationship within the University. SFC sets trends and develops new concepts aimed at benefiting Drake. Currently a new student governing body which would transfer student feeling into more adequate action is being organized under the auspices of SFC.

Also in conjunction with the development of new concepts are the newly organized Student Judicial Board and the Student Forum. Through these student groups, the desires and opinions of the student body are observed. The Student Judicial Board codifies and publishes rules concerning student conduct, investigates violations, and punishes violators. Composed of nine students appointed upon application by the deans of the colleges, the Board has jurisdiction over group or individual violations concerning cheating, traffic regulations, and university elections.

The Student Forum is mainly a discussion group that voices campus concerns. The representatives from the major campus organizations, who not only recognize campus problems but also analyze them, are organized to point out areas of significant concern as an aid to legislation by other bodies and as an indication of campus opinion for the SFC.

National recognition based on scholarship, leadership, co-operation in educational and extra-curricular activities, general citizenship and promise for future usefulness is awarded each senior nominated for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Selected by a campus committee of the Dean, Assistant Deans of Students, and four representative students, each of these nominees has been an outstanding leader while attending Drake.

Originally formed in 1934 to provide a basis of recognition for college students that would be democratic and devoid of any cost to the student, Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges continues to recognize worthy students and to serve:

As a goal to inspire greater effort in those who may not otherwise perform to the best of their ability.

As a reminder that time must be used intelligently to bring the best results from one's college experience.

As a means of compensation for outstanding effort and achievement.

As a standard of measurement for students comparable to other recognized scholastic and service organizations.

Most Eligible Bachelor

Exercising their leap year privileges, coeds led their dates to Drake's third annual Bachelor's Ball where, from a field of nine, they named the auburn haired, brown eyed Roger the biggest catch of the season — Biggest in quality and quantity, since this answer to a tall girl's dream stands six foot four and weighs 180 pounds. Sponsored by Alpha Tau Omega, Roger's major interest (aside from the one that won him the Most Eligible title) is athletics. He is a physical education major in the College of Education, he is a star Varsity basketball forward, member of the "D" Club, and general sports enthusiast.

For his winning ways with the feminine electorate, Roger received a trophy and a date with Marilyn Treman, 1959 Homecoming Queen.

Other candidates for Most Eligible Bachelor, who received honorary Certificates were: Mike Meyers, Alpha Epsilon Phi; Vic Nelson, Phi Kappa Alpha; Byron Kunzman, Phi Kappa Pi; Al Wagner, Phi Delta Delta; Art Wittern, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Charles Frank, Theta Chi; Al Sorenson, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Hans Bressler, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Inter-Fraternity Council

The object of the Interfraternity council on the Drake campus is to advance and promote the interests of the University, the associated fraternities contained therein, and to insure cooperation between the faculty and student body. The council consists of two representatives from each member fraternity, including the president of the house and one chosen representative. These men meet bi-monthly to discuss and consider problems arising from the fraternity system. A basic function of IFC is to regulate fraternity rushing. To aid prospective members, IFC published a brochure containing facts about this phase of college life. Interfraternity athletics include football, basketball, baseball, and bowling. Greek weekend is another high-light of the year sponsored by IFC.

The executive council of IFC included: Bill Moxely (Pres.), John Challas (V.P.), Louie Zakin (Sec'y), Chuck McDonald (Treas.)

The men of Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity spent a busy year at Drake University in 1959-60. The interior of the house was improved and the sleeping rooms received sparkling new linoleum. The numerous social gatherings were highlighted by the "Beat Generation" party, the "Al Capone Prohibition Party," and the winter formal, the theme of which was "Manhattan Towers." The homecoming decoration was an oversized "nebbish" card which opened and closed to the theme of "Kick the 'L' out of St. Louis." During Homecoming weekend, a brunch was served to parents and guests. The brothers of AEPi engaged in a variety of extracurricular activities. Among the Pi leaders were Louie Zakin, secretary of the IFC; Mike Meyers, member of the SFC; and Gene Terry, vice-president of Phi Delta Chi. Fred Rosenberg wrote a sports column for the Des Moines Register and Jim Galinsky, who records under the name of 'Jimmy Gale,' performed at social functions all across the state. Bob Adler was advertising manager for the Times-Delphic.

The ATO's returned for the 1959-60 school year to the construction of an addition to the chapter house, which included a four-room suite for the housemother. ATO started the fall semester by winning second place in Homecoming decorations. Other honors included second place in scholarship, second place in quartet contest, a tie for first place in football, and first and second places in tennis. The active social season began with the pledge dance at Hyperion Country Club. December brought the winter formal at the Standard Club. Other social events included many informal dances and sorority exchanges. Members of ATO filled many important campus positions. Jim Bruner and Dave Romant were elected to the SFC. Tom Leahy and Chuch McDonald were elected president and vice-president respectfully of the senior class, and twelve ATO's were on various committees of SFC. Jerry Nippenberg and Denny Wendt were members of the varsity football team, and Roger Prescott was on the varsity basketball team.

Outstanding

Jim Bruner was chosen as the outstanding member of the year. His activities include: president of the fraternity, vice-president of Omicron Delta Kappa and Alpha Kappa Psi, election to the National Collegiate Who's Who, treasurer of Circle "K" and Inter-fraternity Council.

Kappa Alpha Psi

Damon Rockett, President

For the second consecutive semester Kappa Alpha Psi won the scholarship trophy awarded to the social fraternity with the highest grade average. The pledge class continued the tradition of excelling in scholarship, by capturing the newly created pledge scholarship trophy which is awarded to the pledge class with the highest grade point average. The activities of the year include entering teams in intramural sports, parties, picnics, and Greek weekend. The men of Kappa Alpha Psi also participated in the campaign to help solicit funds for a national charity. Jim Guydon and Lee McKnight are members of the varsity basketball squad. Jim Thomas, Jankeith Thompson, and Jesse Wilson were members of the freshman football team. Jim Thomas and Dave Reed were on the freshman basketball team.

Phi Delta Delta

Al Wagner

The major event this year for the Phi Delta Deltas was becoming permanently situated in their new house at 1311 34th. Social life for the Phi Deltas offered contrasting themes in their important fall events, which included "The Undertaker's Ball" and "Winter Wonderland," and the winter formal. The campus leaders include: Bill Moxley, president of the Phi Deltas and of Inter-Fraternity Council; Larry Herrmann, SFC Special Events Committee Chairman and vice-president of Circle "K." The Phi Deltas started off the intramural season with a tie for first place in football. The group is the defending all-university basketball champs. Many of the members played on Drake's varsity athletic teams. Ken Macke in the co-captain of the 1960 football team. Bruce Bremner is a member of the basketball team, along with Jerry Pezzetti and Don Beirsdorf. The Phi Deltas have doubled their size during the past year, and have high hopes of attaining National Phi Delta Theta at the 1960 convention of the fraternity.

Outstanding

Phi Delta Delta chose Al Wagner as their most outstanding member for this year. He was a member of IFC, where he holds the offices of rush chairman, dance chairman, and Greek Week Project committee co-chairman. In the Phi Delt house he was social chairman, assistant pledge trainer, a member of the executive council, rush chairman, and candidate for Most Eligible Bachelor on Campus. His all-campus activities included Ski Club, Barkers Club, and SFC Student Forum.

Pi Kappa Phi

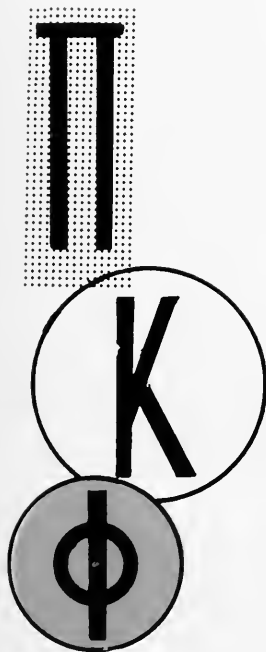

Paul Try

The Pi Kapps ended last year by again taking first place in the Relays Parade contest — the sixth time in the last seven years. This year was started with a new housemother, Mrs. Helen Bright, who has added much to Pi Kappa Phi's eleventh year on the Drake campus. Also new was the landscaping and front porch of the house. Highlighting the social year was the crowning of the Rose Queen at the spring formal in May. The usual parties and exchanges were sandwiched into the Pi Kapps' busy schedules. President Bob Moody served on the SFC Special Events Committee and was co-managing editor of the Times-Delphic. Walt Fullmer managed to serve as fraternity secretary between reporting news and spinning records for Des Moines radio station KSO. The house's other radio bug, Paul Senne, directed the "Let's Visit Drake Show" and had his first pop record, "Cool Man Rock," released last fall. Historian Dave Crawford was a member of Kappa Mu Epsilon and Phi Eta Sigma. Other officers were Neil Kalouner, treasurer, and Byron Kunzman, pledge-master.

Outstanding

Pi Kappa Phi's outstanding active for 1959-60 was Paul Try. The January graduate served as fraternity treasurer for two terms and president for one term. This fall Paul was the Wing Commander of the AFROTC Cadet Wing, and served as treasurer of Arnold Air Society. In his freshman year, the mathematics major was elected to membership in Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary scholastic fraternity. Paul played violin in the Des Moines Symphony Orchestra. He also served as president of Kappa Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics fraternity.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon captured the coveted All-University Intramural Athletics Voltimer Trophy, by placing no lower than third place in any sport and receiving first place in four divisions. A spring formal and Winter formal, and informal monthly house parties were balanced by the extensive work accomplished by the actives and pledges at the Iowa Cerebral Palsy Home for Children throughout the year. The SAE's were well represented in University athletics, with Gene Shultz and Jerry Shipman on the varsity football team, and Larry Bess, Jim Beggs, Dick Kautz, Steve Richardson, and Jerry Shipman on varsity track. John Challas well represents Sigma Alpha Epsilon on the Inter-Fraternity Judiciary Committee. SAE's grade point ranked above the all-men's average.

Outstanding

Reid Hoelscher has been the house manager for Sigma Alpha Epsilon for the past two semesters. Ried was elected vice-president of the fraternity last semester. He has had an above average scholastic record, in spite of his many activities.

William Longfield

Sigma Phi Epsilon began the 1959 school year with 87 men participating in all campus and fraternity activities. The Sig Eps have averaged about two parties every month, including the Diamond Princess Ball, and the Winter Formal. Several Sig Eps are known for their campus activities; 14 were members of Drake athletic teams; 8 were members of Circle "K"; Paul Stark served as president of the Ski Club; Orlando Signeri was president of Barkers Club; Dean Swartzwelter was treasurer of the Social Committee and of Circle "K"; Phil Hahn was treasurer of the promotions committee; Ty Thayer was chairman of the Convocations committee, and captain of the varsity golf team.

Outstanding

William Longfield was chosen as the member of the year because of his outstanding work in both fraternity and campus activities. He was fraternity president in 1957 and 1958; junior class president; president of the Student Alumni Committee; rules chairman for the Intramural committee, IFC rush chairman, and chairman of the Drake Social committee.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

James Underfer

With a nucleus of less than 35 men, Tau Kappa Epsilon doubled its size during rush and began the fall semester with full power.

They took first place in the homecoming decorations and held several parties, including: the Togetherness Dance at the Avon Country Club, a Winter formal at the Waveland Country Club, an Undertakers party at some out-of-the-way haunted house and many extemporaneous parties in-between.

On campus, the Tekes tied down many of the important positions:

TOM DALBY — National Who's Who and Quax Who's Who

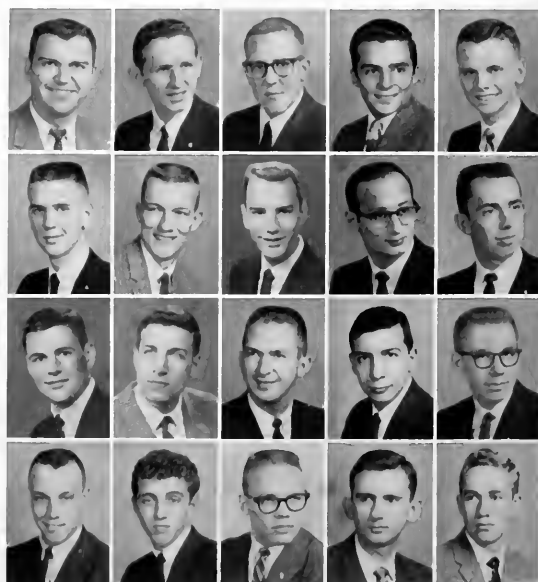

JACK KENNELLY — vice-president of Alpha Kappa Psi; vice-president of Phi Eta Sigma

DAVE PENNEY — Editor-in-Chief of the Quax

LYLE SIMPSON — President of the SFC, National Who's Who, Quax Who's Who

Outstanding

Jim Underfer was elected the most outstanding member of Teke for 1960. This was for his tireless work during the remodeling of the Teke house. Jim also is on the varsity baseball team and leads the Tekes to many victories in the inter-fraternity basketball, football, track and other sports.

Theta Chi

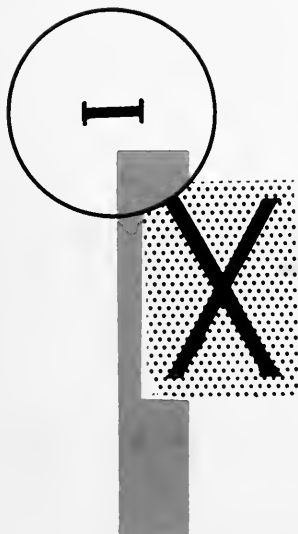

Harley Martin
President

After an all-summer hassle with the city zoning commission and the city council, Theta Chi was given the green light to move into their new house on 34th Street. The entire chapter pitched in to make modifications so that the house would be suitable for fraternity residence. The high point of the social functions during the fall was "The Sweetheart of Theta Chi" dance held at the Hyperion Country Club. This, coupled with a monthly house party and a party given for the actives by the pledges, produced a busy fall semester. During the spring, the Theta Chis held their traditional Spring Formal.

Outstanding

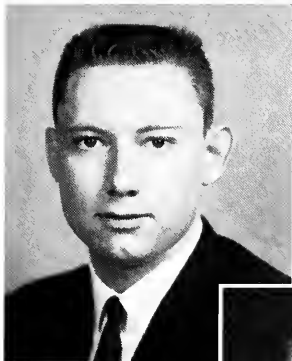

Theta Chi's member of the year is Jerry L. Johnson. It was largely through his efforts that 34th Street was rezoned for Greek houses. During his four years at Drake, Jerry has maintained a 3.3 grade average in the field of languages and social science. He is a member of Phi Sigma Iota, honorary romance language fraternity, The Young democrats, chairman of the scholarship committee of IFC, and has been accepted for post-graduate work at Georgetown University, Washington D.C.

Alpha Epsilon Phi

Bobbie Marks

The AEPHs started out the year with their annual open house for all Drake students. An alumni dinner, a costume party, a Secret Desire party given for the pledges by the actives, and a pledge party with a western theme, were among the other social events. The Phis' annual formal was held in the spring. Georg Ann Zussman, president, was elected to Collegiate Who's Who for her leadership, scholarship, and service to Drake. Among her activities are the following: chairman of the Student Union Committee, chairman for Sweetheart Sing and the Panhellenic Council. Fran Berman is the president of Hillel and is on the Greek Week committee.

Outstanding

Bobbie Marks, the most outstanding active of the year, has held various offices in her sorority and on campus. She has been house manager for two years, rush chairman, member at large, recording secretary, and WRA representative. This past summer she attended Alpha Epsilon Phi's National Convention at Sun Valley, Idaho. On campus she has been a member of the Panhellenic Council, committees for Greek Week and Sweetheart Sing, Barker's Club, Quax staff, Kappa Beta Kappa, and the modern dance club. Bobbie was secretary and treasurer of Hillel. She is also a member of the honorary romance language fraternity, Phi Sigma Iota.

Alpha Phi

Barbara (Pat) Warner

Alpha Phi came back this fall and with their new pledges began another year of activity. The fall and spring formals and the annual Barn Party were the main social events. Once again the Phis took second place in Homecoming house decoration, and the biggest honor came when they received the Scholarship Improvement Trophy at the Fall Scholarship Convocation. Rita Reckling, house president, Pat Warner and Jan Mager were nominated to the National Collegiate Who's Who. The newly organized drill team claimed two Alpha Phis, and Drakettes claimed three. This year the Phis helped at the Rehabilitation Center on Sundays, and also worked for the National Heart Association.

Outstanding

Alpha Phi chose Pat Warner as their most outstanding member. Pat will always be special to Gamma Omicron Chapter because she was one of the founders. She has served as house president and has held several other offices. This year she is Scholarship Chairman. Pat is also a member of SFC and Mortar Board, and has been chosen for the honorary sociology fraternity and for National Collegiate Who's Who.

Alpha Xi Delta

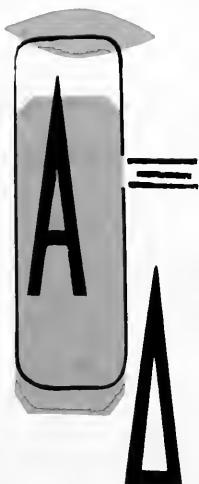

Joann Beran

The Alpha Xis began the year in their newly decorated house. During the summer a new trophy room and housemother's quarters were added and remodeling of the kitchen and living room was completed. Excitement came early when the sorority placed first in the Homecoming decorations, for the fourth consecutive year, with LaFrenda Ebbert's winning "train" idea. The winter formal, held at the Wakonda Club, was the highlight of the social season. The Alpha Xi's "Bill Bailey" routine won second place in the annual Quartet Contest. Carol Lamb represented the sorority on the newly organized drill team; Sandy Povall was the feature editor of the Times Delphic, and Managing Editor of the Quax. Sandi Currey was the class section editor of the Quax.

Outstanding

During her four years at Drake Jo Ann Beran has proven herself an asset in various activities. She has filled offices in Alpha Xi Delta, Phi Sigma Iota, Sigma Alpha Iota, and Lutheran Student Association. Others of her activities include Modern Dance Club, Kappa Beta Kappa, SFC Convocations and Campus Chest Committees, concert band, University Chorus, and Social and Professional Panhellenic Councils.

Chi Omega

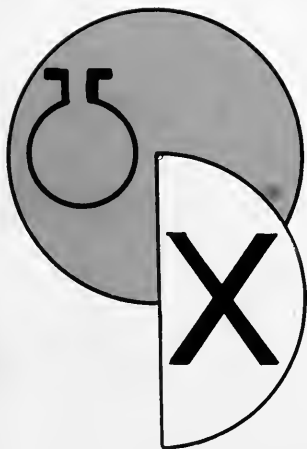

Mina Zenor

The Chi Omega's theme, "Pan-da-Bears," resulted in a twenty-foot Panda Bear sitting on their front steps as part of the campus-wide Homecoming decorations. November proved to be a rewarding month, as the Chi O's excitedly received the honor of having the highest scholarship on campus, winning the first place trophy for the second consecutive time. The Chi O quartet stepped into the spotlight, capturing the first place trophy in the Quartet Contest. In honor of the actives and commemorating Leap Year, the pledges gave a Sadie Hawkins Party. In campus activities: Kay Jones and Rosemary Nitsche, secretary of the SFC, were selected for Mortar Board and National Collegiate Who's Who. Penny Nichols organized and led the Toreadores, Drake's precision marching team. Ricky Kuchar, on the court for the Diamond Princess Ball, and Patty Day, a semi-finalist in the Miss Drake contest, added a touch of beauty to the college scene.

Outstanding

Mina Zenor's outstanding abilities and talents led the Chi Omegas to choose her as their "member of the year." This senior drama student has been an officer in Chi O for three years, as social chairman, entertainment chairman, and vice-president. As entertainment chairman, Mina directed the Sweepstakes Bulldog Tales skit, "The Legend of Cindy San." In the field of drama, Mina has had major parts in several plays, is a member of Zeta Phi Alpha, Professional drama fraternity, and Theta Alpha Phi, Honorary drama fraternity. She is director of Campus Camera, Drake's radio show on WOI. Mina was also a Drake cheerleader for three years.

Delta Gamma

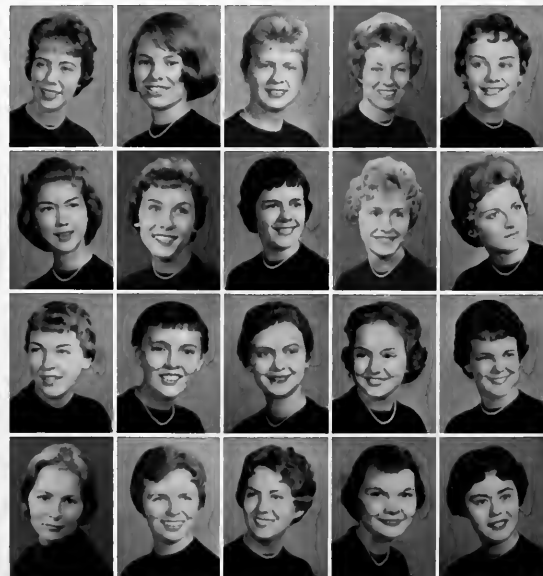

Judy Wyatt

This fall found busy "Hannahs" returning to 1080 22nd Street to prepare for rush. Parties, informal and decorated, resulted in 21 new pledges. With pep and enthusiasm, pledge duties were performed and Homecoming plans were made. A giant octopus decked the pillars with the homecoming slogan, "Squeeze 'em." Gigantic posters and famous ads were the decor for the Delta Gamma "Mad Ad Party." Advertisements came to life as "Hannah," and dates dressed as popular ads. A pleasant addition to the house was Elizabet de Vylder, a Swedish exchange student staying with the DG's this year. Christmas holly was the theme for the winter formal, "Hollyland." Carmen Tursi was chosen ATO Sweetheart, while Sonny Christensen was our homecoming finalist. Peg Buck was liaison to the Campus Chest Committee for SFC, and Liz Nelson, Judy Scott, Barb Dunlap, and Elyn Yost also served on SFC committees. Sue Tyler, Judy Scott, and Dori Gustine are publicity, program chairman, and historian, respectively, in Kappa Beta Kappa. Three DG's, Linda Master, Jan and Joyce Barnhart, were selected to be members of the newly formed "Toreadors." Chosen for the "Drakettes" were Jan Barnhart and Karen Jensen.

Outstanding

Selected as the Delta Gamma "Active of the Year" is Judy Wyatt, who, as a junior, is serving as president of the chapter. Judy has been on the Delta Gamma Standards Board for three years, on the scholarship board, and activities chairman. Secretary of the Panhellenic Council and SFC Social Committee, Judy keeps the organizations' records in order. This fall she served as orientation counselor. Judy has also been an active member of Kappa Beta Kappa, Ski Club, and Barkers Club.

Delta Zeta

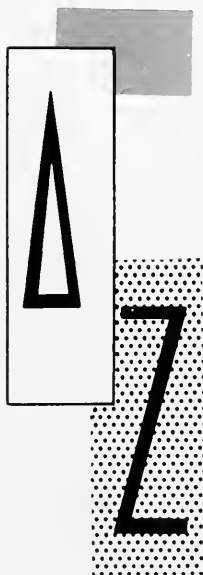

Margaret R. Glancy

The Delta Zetas began the school year with an open house honoring their housemother. Among their social events were the Christmas formal, "Fascination," held at the Hotel Fort Des Moines, and the annual Rose Formal honoring the "Dream Girl of Delta Zeta." At Christmas the DZ's gave supplies to the Des Moines' Children's Home. The DZ's were quite active in campus activities. Gayle Graff was on the homecoming court, while Belinda Bergdall and Ann Gulden were elected to Kappa Delta Pi, national education honorary group. Jan Nonacelli is on the directing staff of Bulldog Tales. DZ's held several positions on SFC committees.

Outstanding

Margie Glancy is Delta Zeta's outstanding active. Among her many activities are: member of the Panhellenic Council, junior class representative to the Who's Who selection committee, sociology club, and Barker's club. Margie received the Mortar Board scholarship for the outstanding sophomore, and the DZ scholarship award. She was selected a semi-finalist in the Miss Drake contest, one of the ten best dressed women at Drake, and a member of the SAE Sweetheart Court. She is the Delta Zeta Rush chairman.

Kappa Alpha Theta

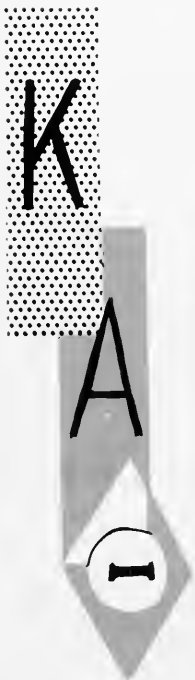

Ann McIntyre

The Meow of the KAT's became louder as the Thetas began their second year on 34th Street. Beauty again rested upon Theta heads; Judy Olson was crowned Miss Minnesota and represented that state in the Miss America Pageant, and Faye Stalley was chosen Miss Piere, South Dakota. Linda Kocour represented Theta as one of the five finalists for Homecoming Queen. Gerri Holler was crowned Sigma Phi Epsilon Diamond Princess at their annual fall Pledge dance. The beatnik craze reached its peak, and the Thetas entertained their dates at a beatnik house party. Holiday spirits soared the annual winter formal — "Mistletoe Spree." Honors were well distributed in the Theta house: Jane Haffner and Shera Hess were elected Treasurer and Secretary, respectively, of the senior class; Mona Muhm was a member of the cheerleading squad; Jane Haffner, Jennie Johnson, Ann McIntyre, and Linda Mackaman were elected to Who's Who in American Colleges.

Outstanding

The Thetas had a wide range from which to choose an outstanding member of their chapter, but finally narrowed the field to one — Ann McIntyre. Ann has participated in many worthwhile campus activities and has given unendingly of her time, effort, and ability to further their objectives. She has participated and held offices in: YWCA, president; Young Republicans, vice-president; Kappa Beta Kappa; WRA; History Club; Drake Christian Council, and was elected to SFC and Who's Who in American Colleges. In her last two years of college, she has held the Mary E. Downing Honorary History Scholarship and a Political Science scholarship.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

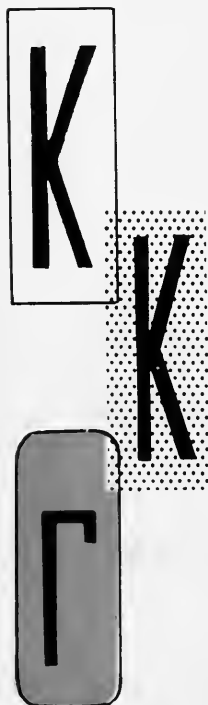

Janice Edwards

Of the special events on the Kappa calendar, which included Christmas and Spring formals and Christmas caroling, the most exciting was moving into a new house at 1305 34th Street. Among the Kappas who have been honored in various ways during the year are: Joyce Lund, president of Zeta Phi Eta and of the Professional Panhellenic Council, a member of Mortar Board and the convocations committee, treasurer of Theta Alpha Phi, and a member of Who's Who; Marilyn Treman, elected Homecoming Queen; Nella Hundling, rush chairman and the alum secretary of Mu Phi Epsilon; Barbara Wood, vice-president of Phi Gamma Nu; and Maggie Miller, vice-president of SFC.

Outstanding

Jan Edwards was chosen the outstanding active of the year. Her many campus activities are as follows: Lambda Kappa Sigma Secretary, Rho Chi secretary, and Alpha Lambda Delta treasurer. Jan is a member of Mortar Board and was secretary of the American Pharmaceutical Association in her sophomore year.

Town Girls

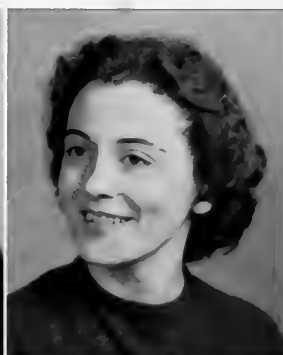

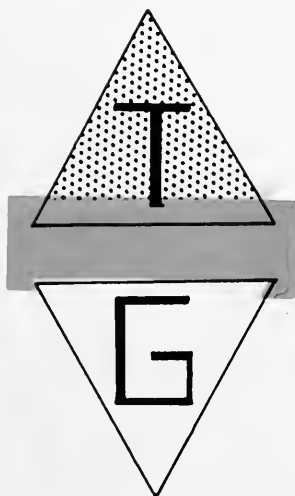

Graciellou Jansen

Meeting Monday nights in New York Hall, the 32 members of the Drake Town Girls, an independent organization, put in a busy social season. At Christmas they held a semi-formal, and in the spring they had their traditional formal. Mixers, slumber parties, hay rack rides, and informal dances filled the rest of their year. Under the guidance of their advisors, Mrs. John D. Hansen and Mrs. Dwight Saunders, the group met for the work of organizing a campus club; homecoming and Drake Relays displays and floats, WRA, Campus Carnival, and WUS.

Outstanding

A junior in the College of Fine Arts, Graciellou Jansen is in music education, majoring in viola and minoring in piano. Joining TG's as a freshman, Gracie served the organization the past year as treasurer. She has participated in WRA, playing ping-pong doubles and singles, volleyball, softball and bowling. Gracie has been serving Sigma Alpha lots, professional music sorority, as historian. She is a member of the Drake-Des Moines Symphony orchestra, and of the Grace Methodist Church choir. In the last year Gracie has served the campus as an orientation counselor and as a floor counselor of Stalnaker dorm, and has been a member of the house council.

Education . . . High School Practice Teaching

A semester safari into the "blackboard jungle" of high school life introduces many Drake education students to the perils and pleasures of secondary teaching.

One such sojourner back to "those high school days" — days not too long past — is Penny Nichols, drama-speech major, who student taught at Des Moines Technical High School during the fall semester. Like many others, Penny played a dual role — efficient high school teacher at Tech and active college coed at Drake.

They Learn by Teaching Others to Learn

Student teaching is the highlight of the four-year teacher preparation program of Drake's College of Education, which, since its foundation in 1888, has prepared teachers for all levels of the school system from kindergarten through college. This "on the job training" utilizes the educational theory gained from class lectures and textbook study; it provides a practical test of the prospective teacher's ability, interest . . . and understanding.

To some students, student teaching presents a formidable aspect full of responsibilities — conducting classes, making assignments, marking grades. But for most, it is rewarding and valuable stage of learning — a stage in which the student teacher has an opportunity to work in a real school situation, meet real problems, and work with actual children or teen-agers.

Clockwise: R. Helmick, S. Trumbower, B. Moranville, R. Peddicore, D. DuBois, J. Yodder, J. Williams.

Law Review Board

For the ninth year, the Drake Law Review has been the official spokesman of the Drake Law School.

Published by a three-man board of directors under the guidance of Professor EDWARD HAYES, faculty advisor, the Review is distributed semi-annually to 3,300 Drake student lawyers and Iowa practicing lawyers.

The primarily student-written publication, containing professional articles, discussions of legal problems, and case analyses, is financed through alumni gifts, subscriptions, and Iowa State Bar Association donations.

To the 40 members of Drake's Cole Chapter, the professional law fraternity, Phi Alpha Delta is a reservoir of professional information and aid.

To help its members now in the classroom and later in the law field, Phi Alpha Delta provides outlines of various Drake law classes, offers to underclassmen informal tutoring by upperclassmen, and holds monthly dinner meetings where prominent Des Moines lawyers discuss various aspects of the profession not covered in classrooms or textbooks.

In addition, the national organization publishes a quarterly newspaper, the Phi Alpha Delta Reporter, to further inform student lawyers about their profession.

Besmeared

Train Hands as Well as Minds

One of the first departments established, Drake's art department yearly tutors over 500 besmocked and besmeared aspiring artists. About 200 of these paint-wielders are art majors, the remaining 300 being students from other departments "dabbling" in art.

Offering training in an almost inexhaustible array of fields, the art department has classes in commercial art, interior decorating, advertising design, painting, sculpturing, fashion illustration, print making, ceramics, pottery, and art education.

The art faculty, headed by LEONARD GOOD, now includes eight instructors.

There's none so critical as the artist himself. JAN BOHROFEN casts a critical eye at her painting, undecided whether to stop now or add that last dab of color to her canvas.

The Process of Production

The cast list is posted rehearsal is called for that night
Plans are cancelled
the work lights on the stage are on Cast members sit on the piano bench and read from their scripts
Prof interprets the play
the crew list is up
Drama students in Howard Hall in levis and painty sweatshirts running Between classes to get the set done once again the prop room is rummaged through Many fast cups of coffee consumed at Fran's and Lew's
"Zeta sandwiches" seem to be the main diet
Dorm lights burning in the middle of the night
Have to get those "lines" memorized
the light chart is plotted
Dress rehearsal in session . . . hot velvets in the spring . . . short Roman togas in the winter
Opening night telegrams and nervous freshmen
Friday night pictures and only one night to go
The final curtain, work lights back on, everyone strikes the set
A Zeta coffee for friends, family, cast and crew another Drake production is over.

Astronomy

Perhaps the most interesting and neglected course in the science department is Dr. Phillip Riggs' astronomy course. It's no snap, by any means, but it's not the most difficult either.

Weekly journeys to the Municipal Observatory to study the stars first hand, distinguish this departmental adventure from the clique labs of the other sciences.

Dr. Riggs' vigor and enthusiasm for this course teaches even the most uninformed student the essentials and background of this fascinating subject.

and Culture

Spurred by past discoveries, the Harvey Ingham scientists daily observe findings aiding them in their search for scientific knowledge.

The science majors — a species all their own — respond not only to the "satellite panic" but to the miscalculation in a simple formula. Exploring the finite and the infinite they inhabit the labs and observatory . . . clad in lab aprons and rubber gloves, they combine the culinary and chemical arts to the extent that dishes mean ager-ager plates . . . stoves become Bunsen burners . . . graduates replace measuring cups.

The science majors — a species all their own — believe the philosophy of life consists of the theory of relativity, conservation of matter, conservation of energy and evolution . . . language is that of mathematical formulas and Latin terms . . . senses are trained so that noses know no better perfume than that of sulphur fumes. From these pour forth the future Einsteins and Curies whose goal is to learn today to make a better world tomorrow.

"Bleachie-Locks and the 3 Beats"

Launching the sixties' decade of Bulldog Tales, Drake's 1960 all-campus variety show featured many new innovations — some good, some bad. From the black-uniformed usherettes who were stationed at the door to the Parade of Drake Beauties who closed the show, the Tales' audience witnessed an all-new show fashioned after Broadway spectacles.

A sell-out both nights, for the first time in Tales' history, showed that the ticket holders appreciated the new reserved seat sales which assured them of a good view of the stage. Directed to their seats by the usherettes, the audience settled down to a four-hour sitting marathon, broken only by a ten-minute intermission.

Quickly recovering from the shock of a supersonic, stereophonic attack by roaring locomotives and revved-up race cars, the audience realized that "that stereo quality" was part of the show. The $1500.00 worth of stereo equipment installed by Lisle Shires produced a more realistic sound reproduction.

The program, which included eight group acts and seven individual acts, featured the combined talents of sororities and fraternities plus an increased number of individual acts.

Closing the show but opening the eyes of the audience, thirteen Drake beauties paraded down a red-carpeted obstacle course into the black obscurity of the auditorium, in Drake's first beauty pageant. The highlight of the evening was the presentation of J'ne Flint whose dark-haired beauty and gracious poise won for her the title of Miss Drake of 1960.

Co-sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism sorority and fraternity, this was the fourteenth annual show.

Winners of the three individual trophies and three group trophies are pictured on this and surrounding pages. They are:

An Era Ends . . .

With the Cry . .

and the Spending Sixties

A busy year of planning, preparing, and fund-raising will be culminated when the first ground is broken in Drake University's $5,000,000 Capital Fund Expansion Program. This, the first step in a series of expansion and improvement plans, will lead to the establishment of Drake as one of the finest centers of learning in the nation in both physical plant and academic instruction. Announced Thursday, November 5, 1959 by James W. Hubbell, chairman of Drake's Board of Trustees, the $5,000,000 development program calls for a complete redesign of the present campus. Of the $5,000,000 to be raised, $4,000,000 will be devoted to the erection of the three new instructional buildings: the general classroom and journalism buildings housing seminar rooms, lecture hall, classrooms, and faculty offices; the fine arts building housing classrooms, art studios with special lighting facilities, a recital hall, little theater, and exhibition and storage space; and the physical education and health building housing classrooms for regular physical education classes, special facilities for the training of physical education teachers, coaches, and recreational directors, and an indoor track for intramural activity. The program also will provide for general campus expansion and improvement through land purchases and landscaping, for continuance of the Great Teacher Program to maintain and increase the excellence of the Drake Faculty through improved salaries, and renovation of Howard Hall and the Law Building and removal of temporary structures. The expansion program is necessary to Drake's future growth and progress. With a fall enrollment of 7,022 students as regular on-campus students and as off-campus students at Drake's 29 Community College centers in the state, Drake is rapidly outgrowing present facilities, and enrollment is expected to increase at an even greater rate in the future.

WE WANT MONEY!

$5,000,000 Worth

Since the November announcement of the campaign, gifts have mounted to well into seven figures. The one-third mark in the "$5,000,000 for Drake" campaign was passed by January 1, 1960, only two months after the official send-off. The rate of progress in the fund-raising campaign is about $21,667 per day; this means that nearly $15 has been raised each minute since the campaign's November opening. To conduct the extensive campaign, three main committees have been organized under the general supervision of the Campaign Executive Committee, chairmanned by James W. Hubbell, who is also chairman of Drake's Board of Trustees.

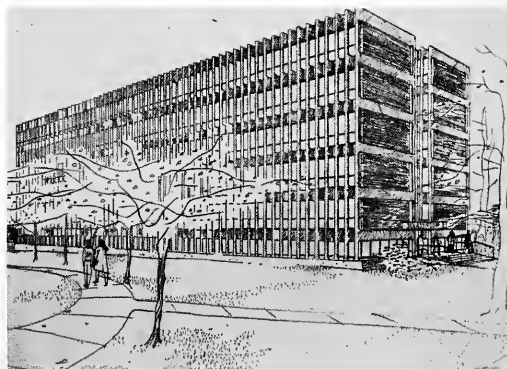

Four prominent theatrical personalities are national honorary co-chairmen of the drive. They are: comedian, musician, and television star Steve Allen, who attended Drake from 1940 to 1941; "Queen for a Day" master of ceremonies Jack Bailey, who attended Drake from 1926 to 1927 and from 1930 to 1931; pianist and top recording artist Roger Williams who graduated from Drake in 1951; and prominent theatrical producer Paul Gregory, who attended Drake from 1938 to 1939.

Fabulous Fifties and the Spending Sixties

As the 1950's started the majority of Drake students were still in grade school. Drake for the time was beginning to feel the absence of its male enrollment, due to the "Korean conflict."

The past ten years have been the most important parts of the lives of the people at Drake. These were the years of development into the college students of today; where they will be developed into the leaders of tomorrow.

They went pretty fast, those last ten years:

Remember when:

1951 — President Harry S. Truman fired general Douglas MacArthur as commander of the Army in Korea.

1952 — Another General, Dwight D. Eisenhower, was nominated for President of the United States. Also, advanced ROTC was filled to the corps (core) with hopeful "draft dodgers."

1953 — Eisenhower elected president, and some Drake students begin high school.

1954 — A senator from Wisconsin, Joe McCarthy, attacks Communists in America.

1955 — The last days of the $250 tuition at Ol' D.U.

1956 — Drake is 75 years old and the Hungarians throw a party for the Communists.

1957 — The birth of the Space Age as the U.S.S.R. launches the first man-made satellite into outer space. Carol Morris, a Drake sophomore, is named Miss Universe.

1958 — America catches up with Russia and sends their own satellite up.

1959 — By this time Cape Canaveral looked like Independence Day at Coney Island.

A lot of things happened that you may not remember, but you miss just the same; Remember:

Fred Allen, Edward Arnold, Ronald Coleman, Lou Costello, Tommy Dorsey, Jimmy Dorsey, Errol Flynn, W. C. Handy, Al Jolsen and Oliver Hardy?

Beatniks, modern paintings and "cool" jazz also had their day.

Oh, yeh, a fellow named Elvis Presley was cashing in on a "type of enjoyment" called Rock and Roll. Somewhere along the line a movie was made, ("The Blackboard Jungle" by name) and a fella named Bill Haley recorded a little tune called "Rock Around the Clock," and they did, for the next four years.

About 1960, it was discovered that some of the popularity of Rock and Roll was due to record companies paying disk-jockeys to play their records. Payola was the label given to the enterprise. Rock and Roll slipped quietly (as possible) into the background (and basements) of American music. Elvis is a sergeant now. He's out of the service (as of last week). He'll think of something.

Stan Kenton, Jonah Jones, Red Norvel, Dave Brubeck made jazz the word, in fraternity houses and other establishments (outside of Iowa, anyway), while KCBC kept good listening in Radio.

The Ninth Way opened on the corner of 30th and University. Students flocked to the dark rooms to absorb the existentialistic atmosphere and to try a cup of espresso.

"Point of order on that rusheet!"

Social activities of Greek organizations were encouraged and discouraged. Two or three fraternities were put on "social probation," but the sororities were left alone because "sorority girls don't drink." (Para-phrase "sorority girls aren't caught." Check the dorms, while you're at it.)

A party, is a party, is a party.

Carrol V. Galbreath, Dean of Students, resigned his position after one and three-fourths years at Drake.

Richard Fairbanks, Art teacher, received a Fullbright scholarship to study in Finland, while Elisabet deVylder came to Drake on one.

Additions to the faculty at Drake included: Bus Mertes, new football coach, Mrs. Beth N. Young and Barton W. McNeil, new art instructors.

Dr. Newell Gates, registrar for many years, resigned.

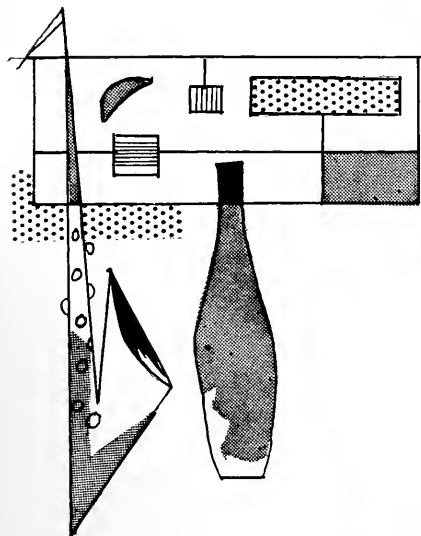

Curtis Page, English professor, started a new era in teaching at Drake, via television. His drama course was aired over KDPS-TV, a station of the Des Moines Public Schools system.

Mike Kelly, Liz deVylder and Mutt.

Lynne Barnes, Jan Boehnke and Dave Mills were on hand to pick new Drakettes from Drakes' talented co-eds.

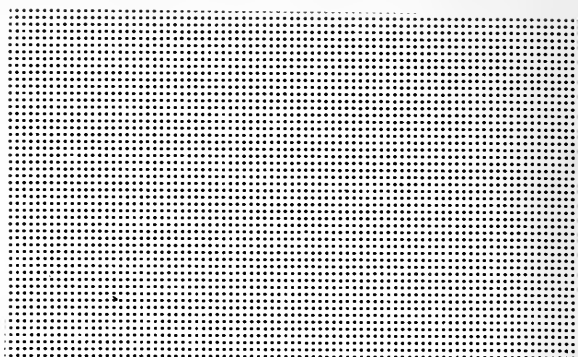

Jeannis Schultz, Karen Novaichick and Sally Niffenger performed at Majorettes for the football games.

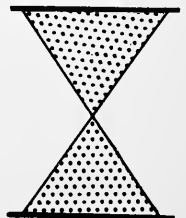

Luther McNaughton took on the characteristics of a canine as he filled the shoes (fur and tail) of Spike, the overgrown mascot of the "fighting" Bulldogs.

IN MEMORIAM

In November, 1959, the student body of Drake University suffered a tragic loss in the deaths of four students, killed in a car accident. With a sense of deep regret we dedicate this space in memory of . . .

John D. Lang, Jr., 18, a Liberal Arts freshman majoring in psychology. He was the pledge class president of Alpha Tau Omega.

Teresa A. Skaff, 19, a Business Administration junior majoring in retailing. She was a member of the Retailing Club and Phi Gamma Nu.

Carroll A. Brown, Jr., 18, a Liberal Arts junior majoring in psychology.

Thomas J. Rivers, 19, an Education sophomore majoring in physical education. He was a member of Circle K and a member of the Collegiate All-American Cross Country Team in the fall of 1959. He was also the holder of the freshman indoor and outdoor two mile and the Drake Fieldhouse two mile.

SOPHOMORES

Another "sophomore on campus" was the second snow of the season which tied up traffic, snarled up classes and covered the campus with general confusion and cold feet.

Des Moines' traffic engineers quickly removed the snow from each street in the city. Although they missed, as some tell us, a part of the city known as Drake.

Professional Journalism

Sigma Delta Chi

Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi are the honorary professional journalism sorority and fraternity. Under the direction of presidents Carol Graney and Dave Mills, members of both organizations met with professional groups and student journalists from other campuses to discuss their fields. The main activity undertaken this year was the production of the 14th annual Bulldog Tales, co-sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi.

Honorary

Alpha Lambda Delta

Alpha Lambda Delta is the only national honorary fraternity for freshman women. The primary function of the fraternity is to encourage and reward high scholarship. Women who earn a 3.5 average or better either semester of their freshman year are eligible for membership. The organization, which is recognized on over 100 different campuses throughout the United States, has been active at Drake since 1938. Members give a tea for new students, sponsor an initiation and a banquet for new members, help new students during registration and usher at Mortar Board tapping.

Professional Commerce

Alpha Kappa Psi

Alpha Kappa Psi, established in 1904 at New York University, was the first professional fraternity in commerce. The objects of the fraternity are to further the individual welfare of its members, promote and advance courses leading to degrees in business administration, and foster scientific research in the fields of commerce, accounts and finance.

Service

Beta Gamma Kappa

Beta Gamma Kappa, professional Christian service sorority, participates in raising funds for the Ecumenical Student Fund, Community Chest, and conducts a service project for underprivileged children. Weekly meetings, suppers, seasonal parties, banquets, a formal dance and various activities give the organization a full schedule throughout the year. Mrs. William J. Moore and Mrs. Dale Miller act as advisors for the group.

Honor 'D' Club

OFFICERS

J. Ecker, R. Hartshorn, J. Cookman and R. Daut. Not pictured: B. Reid.

A "D-Club Man" has achieved three things: (1) A letter in any of Drake's intercollegiate sports, (2) a position of good standing with the university, (3) the acceptance of three-fourths of the club's members, necessary for membership. To these achievements is added the confidence of knowing that they are shining examples of Drake University; men among men, and the fabled heroes of the campus.

In the fall, these men sell beanies to the freshmen, take names of the freshmen, (women only), and play football.

In the winter, they play basketball and condition for spring sports. Occasionally one might find the tracks of their pixie feet zipping in and out of the Quax office. Gracefully wandering in, about the office, and out again, without so much as dropping a banana peel or stepping on their fingers.

Their officers and leaders are men of honor. Robert Daut was co-captain of the 1959 football squad and president of the Honor "D" Club. Jay Cookman was outstanding guard of the 1959 football squad and vice-president. Bob Reid, the red-headed guard of the team, served as secretary of the organization. And Rupert Hartshorn, was the fearless treasurer of the "D" Club.

Honorary Mathematics

Kappa Mu Epsilon

Kappa Mu Epsilon is an honorary mathematics fraternity whose members must have a 3.0 in math or an overall 2.5 grade average. Each pledge must present an oral discussion on some mathematical problem to become active. A banquet is held in the spring after activation.

Residence

Morehouse

The Men from Morehouse exhibited the group spirit which has distinguished them, almost to the point of notoriety at Drake, during the interdormitory cheering competition at a September pep rally. Morehouse's intramural teams participated in football and basketball games this year. The dormitory sponsors mixers for the residents of the women's dorms. Morehouse Hall houses approximately 175 men.

Religious

Newman Club

Newman Club activities were designed for the cultural edification of its members. Sunday evening meetings scheduled study discussions and other programs, including panel discussions on Catholic issues, with speakers and films. Once a month club members received communion and had breakfast together.

Women's Inter-dorm Council

The Women's Interdorm Council, comprised of the officers of the three womens' dormitories, meets weekly to discuss plans for improving dorm conditions and governments. Working in cooperation with other organizations, the council co-sponsors dances and holds teas for the Homecoming and Relays queens. The council also provides opportunities for all dorm residents to participate in campus activities such as the Relays parade and Campus Carnival.

Young Republicans

The purpose of Young Republicans is to provide a vehicle through which young people, who are interested in good government, under republican principles and candidates, may become better informed citizens through leadership.

Honorary Drama

Theta Alpha Phi

Theta Alpha Phi was founded on campus in 1914. Its members are selected on the basis of participation in Drake's theatre productions. The fraternity sponsors an Easter party for underprivileged children, and is in charge of coke sales at all plays and drama functions.

Religious

Wesley Foundation

Wesley seeks to create Christian fellowship, study worship, and recreation. The members strive to promote the ideas of John Wesley and the principles and beliefs of Methodism. A special activity held at the Wesley House, located at 28th Street and Carpenter, was a Christmas party featuring foods of all countries. MISS ANN ADAMS is the advisor for the fellowship.

Religious

United Student Fellowship

The Drake United Student Fellowship is composed of Congregational Evangelical and Reformed students. Weekly meetings are held at the home of MR. and MRS. CALR BUSCH, the advisors, or at Plymouth Church. Meetings include supper, a program, and a worship service. Some of the highlights of the year's activities were a breakfast for the members and their parents during Parents and Homecoming Weekend, Christmas caroling, and a breakfast held on Sunday of final week.

Y.W.C.A.

The Young Women's Christian Association has as its goals, spiritual, intellectual, and social growth. To meet the interests of many girls, the "Y" group is divided into three different areas: Christian Heritage under the leadership of JAN SONS, Community Service headed by CAROL McVEY and Social Action with SALLY DOERR as chairman. Projects for this year included a style show for freshmen, a banquet, a swimming party and a retreat.

Leadership

Omicron Delta Kappa

Election to Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary leadership fraternity, is based on character, leadership, service, scholarship, fellowship and consecration to democratic ideals. Each spring ODK sponsors a Homecoming breakfast for alumni, faculty and businessmen and initiates an honorary member into the fraternity.

Officers for ODK this year were: Paul Chapin, Pres.; Jim Bruner, Vice-pres.; Dean Fred Kramer, Sec.; and J. Robert Franks, Treas.

Divinity

The Divinity School of Drake University has been an integral part of the university's history since its founding in 1881. The first degree granted by the university was a Bachelor of Divinity degree. The Divinity School was originally known as the Bible College. In 1946 the school became a graduate seminary. It offers a three year graduate degree, Bachelor of Divinity and a Master of Arts degree, with a major in Religion through the Graduate Division of the University.

Training

The Divinity School concentrates its program upon preparing men and women for leadership in the local church. It also offers specialization in the fields of religious education, rural and urban ministries, church administration and pastoral counseling.

Although the school has always been particularly responsible for the training of the Disciples of Christ ministry and has received support from Christian churches and its members, the school joins in an ecumenical spirit and seeks to serve all who are prepared to enter the church in any capacity.

After March Activities

WRA

The Women's Recreation Association organizes and directs sports activities for the coeds on the Drake campus. WRA advisor is Miss Hazael Taylor, assistant professor of physical education.

The year started with a tea given for new students, to acquaint them with the WRA program; the May picnic, where trophies were awarded to the organizations with the most points, ended the activities for the year.

To the right is the WRA Executive Board.
Foreground: President Mary Ann Oberhaus. Row 1: Ruth Wallestad, Karen Hanrahan, Regina Shultz. Row 2: Carol Lane, Nancy Wall.

To the left are the WRA Sporheads, in charge of tournaments in badminton, table tennis, softball, tennis, golf, speedball, volleyball, and archery.

Bob Mueller, looking rather surprised, drives in to make two points.

Speaking of Basketball, (and nobody was!) a good start slowed down to a meek crawl by the end of the season. The Quax had its difficulties getting "action" photographs of the exciting games. Take the "D" Club (with a grain of salt, as Steve Allen once put it) for instance; they didn't like our dirty photographer sitting on their clean blue floor, so no more pictures.

In addition to new criticisms, there were new armpitted jerseys for our gladiators to wear on road trips.

Give Us a "D" . . .

was the cheer most often led by the six Drake cheerleaders pictured at the left. Captained by Jan Boehnke and coached by William Francis and Roger Shafer, the team of cheerleaders leaped, shouted, waved flags and turned somersaults at all of the home games during the football and basketball seasons. Thanks to their planning, the annual Skip Day was held in the fall, with its usual variety of activities.

Candid shots of the Drake-St. Louis basketball game, Saturday, January 16.

Drake's varsity basketball team, featuring five returning lettermen, (Terre, Guydon, Prescott, McKnight, and Bowman), played its first game of the season on December 1 against North Dakota at the Fieldhouse, winning 84 to 50. Competing against a full slate of Missouri Valley conference schools, the Bulldog cagers won 11 games and lost 13. Offensive and defensive averages stuck at 64.9. Ending the season with a good try, the Drake team played Cincinnati and Oscar Robertson, the nation's top basketball competition. Coach Maurice John kept the team running, and could always be found shouting encouragement from the bench, as at right.

The Coach
Tozz Robinson

A combination of late spring, a lack of adequate practice space, and a predominantly sophomore squad made the Drake baseball situation appear pretty bleak at the beginning of the season.

The lone returning letterman was pitcher Larry Black. Coach W. J. (Tozz) Robinson, in his third season as Bulldog Diamond Boss, counted shortstop John Freudenthal, second baseman Maro DeMatties and third baseman Dave Erbst among the best prospects for the team this season, and felt that things will look brighter after the sophomore and underclassman squad has "aged" a season.

Other members of the team were first baseman Roger Zino, left fielder Ron Huff, outfielder Jim Williams, catchers Jim Underfer and Jesse McCoy, and pitchers Gary Eden, Dennis Ford, Dick Johnson and Paul Tweedt.

The schedule included Penn, Simpson, Central, Iowa State, Iowa State Teachers College, Omaha University and Parsons which finished up the season on May 18. Three Missouri Valley Conference games were also played, with tough competition from St. Louis, Bradley and Cincinnati.

Both the linksters and racquet-wielders got off to a cold and windy start, but by the time warm weather got here, they were well under way.

A young, energetic tennis team, coached by Spike Potts, started out the season with a 2-2 record. Bob Huber was the only returning letterman, and the only junior on the team; top man was "lefty" Dave Knause. Others on the varsity squad were Dave Lifka, Bob Klingler, Sherwood Boudeman and Dick Thompson.

Drake's varsity golf squad had four returning lettermen, Ty Thayer, Chuck Howard, Dave Mills and Kent Brigham. Dr. Edward Voltmer, director of health and P.E., was back to coach the team through a nine-meet schedule that started with Graceland, encountered Iowa State, Simpson, Omaha, Grinnell, Iowa State Teachers College and Wartburg, finishing up with a return match at Simpson. These plus the annual Iowa State Intercollegiate Handicap golf meet in April, which Drake hosted, and the Missouri Valley Conference meet at Bradley in June kept the team moving.

nd Other Spring Sports

Throughout the pages of recorded and unrecorded history man has changed the physical characteristics of his dwelling place. But his home remained his castle — his fortress.

Sunday evening, April 24, man's fortress proved invaluable. (It also proved to be Herriott Hall).

What happened is a damp, dark spot in the chapters of D.U. What actually happened is a somewhat wetter chapter in the police blotters.

Know Your Enemy

Although the actual reason for the melee was not known we suspect that something along this line MAY have influenced it, just a little.

At least two housemothers were "accidentally" doused with that wet stuff known as water. And there probably wasn't a dry pair of Bermuda shorts on campus.

Firemen came to the rescue of the poor frightened little co-eds, in typical riot action opened up on the crowd with their fire hoses. THEN THE CROWD OPENED UP ON THEM WITH THEIR FIRE HOSES, and the fight was on.

A curtain of tear gas surrounded the lower floors of Carpenter dorm. (The girls could hardly see their enemy.)

INNOCENTS PERSECUTED

"I'm innocent," cried the twelve as they were placed in the patty-wagon and kept dry by the nice policemen.

Oh, well it's spring again, and something almost had to happen.

A Medley of

"Help"

A wonderful weekend of fun and pleasure took over the Drake campus April 29-30.

Snow, rain, mud, cold and wind were only a few of the fun-filled surprises that greeted Relays fans. Eleven students were placed on the Dean's "good-by" list Friday but were back on the faculty's "hello" list Monday morning.

Rounding out the lovely End-of-Month party was the renowned Harry James orchestra, which furnished the music for the Relays Dance at the Val-Air Ballroom. All the campus lovelies were there and squealed and shouted at the float winners. The real squealing and shouting came the next morning when several Greeks awoke to find themselves pinned.

The sports staff found their way to the Quax office sluggish and listless Sunday morning. Sluggish because most of them were slugged after the dance Saturday and listless because they forgot the winners of the Drake Relays.

But the big sporting news of the day came when it was discovered no new world's records were broken, except at the PENN RELAYS where John Thomas jumped into the air 7' 1½" and came back down again with the world record for high jumping. What would the world do without the PENN RELAYS?

Many weeks of planning, purchasing, building, painting, and stuffing by campus organizations reached a rather windy climax, as floats lined up for the Relays Parade. Forming at the State Capitol grounds, the parade, led by Marshall Robert M. Evans, 25 year member of the Drake Board of Trustees, and consisting of 16 floats, bands, drill and military units, dignitaries, and beauties, proceeded down Walnut Street to downtown Des Moines.

From Frontierland to Fairyland, Alpha Tau Omega toured "Disneyland U.S.A." A successful trip, the ATO's took second in the Fraternity Division.

Grandview Junior College also entered a Disneyland float.

Kicking off the Relays weekend, Wilfrid Smith, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune and member of the Drake Relays Hall of Fame committee, spoke at the All-University Convocation. Smith, an accomplished sportsman as professional football and baseball player is one of the country's foremost sportswriters; he has covered the Relays for 27 years.

Float entries in the parade were: (Sorority Division) Alpha Phi — "Cyprus Fantasy;" Alpha Xi Delta — "Get Your Kicks on Route 66;" Chi Omega — "Coed Holiday;" Delta Gamma — "Drifting Thru Dixie;" Kappa Alpha Theta — "Hawaiian Holiday;" and Kappa Kappa Gamma — "Mardi Gras." (Fraternity Division) Alpha Tau Omega — "Disneyland U.S.A.;" Pi Kappa Alpha — "Vacations Across the U.S.A.;" Sigma Phi Epsilon — "Floating to Paradise;" and Tau Kappa Epsilon — "Reno Relays." (Independent Division) Disciple Student Fellowship — "Recreation-Wreckreation;" Town Girls — "See Iowa First;" and Women's Inter-Dormitory Council — "Vacation at Home."

Three non-Drake floats were entered by the United States Army, the Veishea committee of Iowa State University, and Grandview College.

The 50th state with its ukuleles, pineapples, and flowers (without co-ed stamens) served as theme for Kappa Alpha Theta's "Hawaiian Holiday," which won second in the Sorority Division.

Although they may not be able to afford a Hawaiian holiday, Women's Inter-Dormitory Council enjoys a "Vacation at Home," for second in Independent Division.

Relays Queen

Reigning over the 1960 Drake Relays was Miss Jan Stewart, lovely 20-year old junior from Kansas State University majoring in education.

A resident of Hays, Kansas, Miss Stewart was runner-up for Miss Kansas of 1959. Her other beauty titles include Royal Purple Queen and Miss Manhattan K-State.

A member of Pi Beta Phi social sorority, Miss Stewart is active in student government, yearbook work, glee club performances, and cheerleading.

Night of Opera, presented by the 63-member Drake University choir was one of the highlights of the spring activities. This production, held on the evening of March 25 and 26, consisted of a condensed version of LA GIOCONDA by Ponchielli, GIANNI SCHICCHI by Puccini, and CAVALLERIA RUSTICANNA by Mascagni. The performance was climaxed by the finale which was arranged by Mr. Leslie Hale, Jr. Starring in GIANNI SCHICCHI was Roger Burke, an Omaha graduate student who placed third in the midwest regional auditions of the Metropolitan Opera Co. in Minneapolis.

The finale, using a travel theme, delighted the audience with musical selections depicting travel through foreign countries. Beginning with "Come Fly with Me," the choir conducted a tour through Italy, Germany, spent a "Foggy Day in London Town," and at last returned home with "It's a Lovely Way to Spend an Evening." The soloists featured were Gary Leatherman, Betty Warnke, Susan Yost, Frank Aiello, David Walker, and Joanne Moore.

The choir, directed by Professor Hulshizer and Robert Pearson and produced by Professor White of the Drake University music department, did an outstanding job this year.

In the production of CAVALLERIA RUSTICANNA soprano Eleanor Mahaffey and contralto Nella Hundling were featured in the roles of "Santuzza" and the mother.

Accompanists for Night of Opera were Nancy Sikkema, Pat Whitmarsh, Lonny Liggett, and Marilyn Treman.

The entire choir, after concluding its production on campus, travelled to Marshalltown, Clarion, Elgin, Mason City, and Minneapolis, Minnesota.

??????????

Among the traditional, prosaic litter of old newspapers and cleaning bags that gives Dogtown streets "that casual look," bright spots of color and composition could be found when Delta Phi Delta, honorary art fraternity, held its first open air art fair April 23.

Under colorful canopies and bright umbrellas, with bold placards, signs, and pennants, a touch of Paris was imported to Dogtown.

Over 50 students and faculty members exhibited art works on sidewalks between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets on University Avenue. Also housing art exhibits, an alley to the north served as a Dogtown version of New Orleans' Pirates' Alley.

"Well, Dean Jordan, all I know is that he did it after one of our parties."

"Hey, mister, what - cha - doin', mister - huh - mister? What's that - mister - hey - mister - huh - mister - what - cha - doin' - mister - huh - mister? What's that - mister - huh - mister - hey - mister - does - it hurt - mister - why - mister - huh - mister - HUH."

"Ah-ha and oh-ho."

"It's called, 'Let's go poisoning pigeons in the park'."

"Maybe if we paint the signs in English someone will stop."

"M'aw good-ness! What is that thing! $165.00 for that? Why it's full of ho-wels. 'aw certainly wouldn't want that in my home."

OUR LEADERS

Long-beaked birds peer from the rooftops,
Harbingers of coming destruction,
Silent in their secret knowledge
Grey and black birds, with scarlet beaks,
Anticipating the impending feast,
Quietly drooling from hunger.
Birds watching with cold silver eyes,
Seeing deep into reality,
And waiting for the end of man.

TRANQUILITY

Feathers falling soundlessly
from a tall white tower
Glowing orange and crimson
In the reflected sun.
As they fall into the Azure sea
Know the tranquility I seek . . .
They and peace are one
Green grass bursting
From the lusty earth
Trampled by no one
And wild and free
Knows the exhilaration I seek
. . . It and peace are one.

Quo Vadis?

THE final echo of the old school bell signals far more than just the end of four years of diligent study. It is a fanfare, heralding an altogether new life in a competitive and demanding adult world.

The school has done a big job conditioning young minds for this moment. And, properly, these minds are eagerly receptive to the challenge. But there's more required than a mental reservoir of facts and figures and a willingness to apply them in a practical way.

There is another item that is every bit as important or perhaps more so. It is the human heart. For, it must still be acknowledged that it is the heart that can direct these other attributes in such a way as to add to mere material success the quality of satisfaction—a quality that comes from using knowledge and wisdom and skill not only to improve oneself but to make a better world for all who dwell in it.

Rightfully, then, it's proper to pause here and ask oneself, "Whither goest thou?" And then to choose the way that invites this unbeatable partnership of mind and heart.
